Dear Customer:

Thank you for choosing Krytox™ lubricants. In an effort to continue to be responsive to all of our customer requirements, we would like to notify you of an improvement we are making to our Krytox™ Corrugator 226FG and Krytox™ Corrugator 227FG products. The improvement will be a reduction in oil separation. Outside of this, performance to the previous formulation, including ASTM D3336, is comparable.

We will be transitioning to this improved formulation over the next 60 days. You can continue to order these products via the same product codes.

If you have any questions or concerns about this notice, please contact your authorized Krytox™ Distributor.

Chemours values your business and we look forward to continuing to work with you on Krytox™ lubricants for your critical applications.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any further questions.

Sincerely,
