RE: Covid-19 – Essential Business Classification

To Whom it May Concern,

As COVID-19 continues to impact many industries and companies, we would like to assure you that Miller-Stephenson Chemical, Inc. is classified as an “Essential Business” and is open for business.

We have implemented our continuity plan to help secure the safety of our employees while still providing critical support, sales, and fulfillment services to our domestic and international customers.

Please contact us via phone, website or email, if you have any questions or concerns.

We wish you the best during this difficult period.

Sincerely,

Dan Dillulio
Director of Operations
